In 2010, new procedures for adjudicating these awards were introduced. Based on enrolment levels, a monetary allocation was made to each participating institution. The adjudication is now based on three criteria: overall academic achievement over the previous two years of study, the request for financial assistance made by applicants, and the results of adjudication of studio work completed during the first semester.

In 2011, procedures introduced in 2010 for adjudicating these awards were continued. Some institutions did not receive full allocation, because of paucity of applicants.

Two grantees in 2011 (marked with *) deferred their studies, so payment of grants awaits their re-enrolment.
